VOL. 66 CANYON, TEXAS THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1961 NO. 9

Monstrous Hail Falls at Wayside

AIN'T IT HAIL! Large hail stones fell around the Wayside community Monday evening and R.C.McNeill put some of them in his deep freeze so there would be no guessing at the size. Shown in the above photo are Bill Sternenberg of Canyon and Jimmy McNeill. The stones hit from three to nine feet apart.

Grapefruit Size Stones Reported

Hail stones, ranging in size from marbles to grapefruit, fell on the Wayside community Monday evening.

Some crops near the community had already taken a severe beating under a Friday night hail.

The Monday evening hail put the finishing touches on several fields.

Damage was not general, though. Many of the fields show little or no damage.

The big hail Monday came at about 5 p.m.

One observer, Mrs. A. A. McNeill, said she saw the large cloud pass over and head up Palo Duro Canyon.

"I was relieved to see it pass us but I looked out a minute later and saw it coming back," she said.

She and her son were caught in a large barn during the fall of the large stones.

Her son, R. C. McNeill, said the large stones sounded like hammers striking the barn.

"I guess they fell, off and on, for about 30 minutes," he said. "The sound was deafening."

Damage caused by the bigger stones was at a minimum since they fell so far apart.

One observer estimated they fell from three to nine feet apart. When they struck the ground they left easily distinguishable pock marks. The stones knocked large dents in barn roofs, smashed shingles and broke windows.

Only about .5 to .9 inches of moisture accompanied the hail.

The cloud bearing the large stones came from a northeasterly direction.

Although most farmers considered the big hail damaging they agreed that heaviest damage to crops was inflicted by the one Friday night. Some grain losses will go as high as 100 per cent, some said.

County Milk Production Greater Than Ever Before

Randall County is producing more milk than ever before, in the opinion of Louis Hinders.

Hinders, executive director of the 26th district of the North Texas Producers' Association, operates a modern diary installation southeast of Canyon.

"Though there are fewer dairies now our milk production has increased tremendously," he said.

Yearly income is approximately $876,000.

Hinders said the county has approximately 40 dairies averaging 1,200 pounds of milk daily.

"We are the largest producing county in the Panhandle," he added.

Hinders said Randall County has produced milk as long as Amarillo has served as a market and is presently one of the principal markets for county milk producers.

"We not only send milk to Amarillo," Hinders pointed out. "We also ship some to Lubbock, Plainview, Muenster, and Sulphur Springs, Oklahoma."

In giving a breakdown on milk use Hinders said about 80 per cent is bottled and 20 per cent goes into manufactured products such as cheese, butter and other milk foods.

Hinders said the modern dairy farmer is employing more and more machinery in his production.

"Nowdays milk is never touched by hand," Hinders explained. "When it leaves the milker it is piped through pyrex tubes into a refrigerated tank. From there it is pumped into a refrigerated truck and goes directly to the processing plant."

This is one reason, in Hinders' opinion for the decrease in the number of dairies.

"With the high cost of installing and maintaining a modern dairy, many of the smaller plants disappeared," he said.

He said the average county dairy has approximately $17,000 invested in milking stock, $12,000 in barns and equipment and then there is the land. Hinders said the investment varies with location and terms. Some is owned and some is rented.

A great advantage for Randall County dairymen is proximity to feed supply, Hinders related.

"Many of us raise a great quantity of our feed," he said. "What we don't raise can be purchased from local sources."

In conclusion Hinders said the big factor is further expansion of the dairy industry is demand for the product.

"We must have a market for our product in order to justify production," he said.

And with the promise of continued growth in the Panhandle area Hinders feels the dairy industry in Randall County will remain one of the largest.

Bridal Notes

BY PENNY COX

June is the month of brides. All brides are beautiful. It is their right. A bride must be clever as well as beautiful in order to make her wedding a joyous thing to remember. Big weddings are beautiful, but they aren't beautiful enough to spend the rest of you're married life paying for. The first rule of wedding etiquette is to plan your wedding in accord with your finances.

June is the month of brides and tips on etiquette will appear in this column to aid the bride during her month.

Should you wear gloves? Yes, and no, but mostly no. There was a time when every bride wore gloves with the third finger of the left hand carefully ripped to permit the ring to be slipped on her finger. However, fashion is constantly undergoing a change and in recent years has had to meet the challange of common sense and practical usage which actually has resulted in more becoming and freer styles. As a result, gloves worn with bridal gowns are on the wane.

Do You want to add an "Old World Touch" to your reception? It is an old European custom to have a "coupe de marrage" (marriage cup) at a wedding, from which the bride and groom drink and plight their troth. It gives an "old world" touch to the bride's table at the reception and starts a tradition fraught with sentiment that can be maintained for generations in the family of the young people who have just been married.

Who should be in the receiving line at the reception? The receiving line (left to right) is, Mother of the bride, Father of the groom, Mother of the groom, father of the bride, bride, groom, maid of honor and bridesmaids. The orderly flow of "traffic" is of supreme importance at a wedding reception. If you are having a large reception it might be wise to have an announcer. An accouncer stands at the beginning of the receiving line and ask the name of each guest, which in turn he repeats in a low voice to the bride's mother so that she may greet the guests by name and present the guests to the person next to her. The guests invited to a large reception include many that could not possibly be known to the bride's mother; they include the groom's family and friends, the bride and froom's friends and business associates. An announcer can usually be procured at a caterer.

How much should the groom give the minister? The groom may give whatever he likes. The amount isn't set. A word of advice...don't give less or more than you can afford. Sincerity is the keynote. The usual fee ranges between ten and twenty-five dollars.

"Full Speed Ahead" Theme of Bible School

"Full Speed Ahead" is the theme of the Assembly of God summer Bible School.

Contests are being held between the boys and girls on attendance and offerings. Another contest is being held. It is a department contest. The department that has the biggest attendance wins a boat ride on Buffalo Lake. There is also going to be a prize for the individual who brings the most new members to Bible school.

Teachers at the Bible school are Mrs. L. B. Wolfington, Mrs. Jimmy Evans, Ima Jean Townsend, and Mrs. R. L. Rogers, are teachers in the beginning division. Evelyn Crowley and Mrs. Clem Johnson are teachers in the primary division. Teachers in the junior division are Mrs. Wayne Womack, Mrs. Harry Green and Mrs. Buddy Petitt. . . . keeps your food SAFE!

That's a job that an electric home freezer or refrigerator-freezer does to perfection — keeping food safe. And, any family can enjoy the convenience and economy of a freezer now — large or small. The refrigerator-freezer combination with freezer capacity up to 200 pounds makes that possible — makes big money savings, too.

The best news of all is that new freezers and refrigerator-freezers will offer you nearly twice the food capacity in the same amount of space that a refrigerator used to take. Makes it easy to find a convenient place to put it.

Buy now — the food savings start immediately.

WHILE THEY LAST > Five beautiful plastic bowl covers are yours while they last if you will visit your favorite Reddy Kilowatt Dealer and see his freezer or refrigerator-freezer demonstrations. Nothing to buy — but you'll want to.

BIGGEST MAY SINCE THE MODEL "A"

THE MONTH OF MAY WAS THE BIGGEST FOR FORD CAR SALES IN 32 YEARS--SINCE THE HEYDAY OF THE HOT MODEL "A" IN 1929.

MORE THAN 143,000 FORD CARS AND TRUCKS WERE SOLD.

THIS MEANS THAT EVERY SIX SECONDS OF EVERY EIGHT-HOUR DAY, SOMEONE BOUGHT ANOTHER FORD, FALCON, THUNDERBIRD, OR FORD WAGON.

WHY?

PERHAPS THOSE 143,000 AMERICANS FOUND OUT SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW. THEY DID ALL THE SHOPPING, DEALER BY DEALER; THEY MADE ALL THE COMPARISONS, CAR BY CAR. BUT THEY BOUGHT FORDS!

WHY?

SOONER OR LATER YOU'LL GET A NEW CAR. WHEN YOU DO, TRY YOUR FORD DEALER FIRST--HE WILL GIVE YOU AN ABSOLUTE YARDSTICK OF VALUE IN EVERY PRICE RANGE FROM A TUDOR FALCON TO A THUNDERBIRD CONVERTIBLE.

HERE'S WHAT TO LOOK FOR. IN THE GALAXIE PRICE RANGE, DON'T SETTLE FOR LESS THAN A CAR THAT'S BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF...THAT GOES 30,000 MILES BETWEEN CHASSIS LUBRICATIONS... 4,000 MILES BETWEEN OIL CHANGES...WHOSE BRAKES ADJUST THEMSELVES AUTOMATICALLY...WHOSE MUFFLER IS BUILT TO LAST THREE TIMES AS LONG AS ORDINARY ONES...WHOSE BODY IS SPECIALLY TREATED TO RESIST RUST AND CORROSION...WHOSE FINISH NEVER NEEDS WAXING.

IF YOU WANT RECORD ECONOMY LOOK TO THE FALCON ...THIS IS THE ABSOLUTE RUN-AWAY BEST SELLER OF ALL COMPACT CARS...WITH THE GAS MILEAGE RECORD OF 32.6 MILES PER GALLON, PROVEN BY AN EXPERT DRIVER IN A FALCON WITH STANDARD SHIFT, UNDER THE CROSS-COUNTRY TEST CONDITIONS OF THIS YEAR'S MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN.

TAKE A LOOK AT THE TWELVE FORD WAGONS, EVERY ONE IS DESIGNED AND BUILT TO GIVE YOU MORE SOLID ROOM-PER-DOLLAR, POWER-PER-DOLLAR OR STYLE-PER-DOLLAR VALUE THAN OTHER WAGONS.

FOR PURE PLEASURE, SEE THE SENSATIONAL NEW THUNDERBIRD FOR 1961, A CAR THAT SOMEHOW BECOMES MORE DESIRABLE EACH MONTH AS THE IMITATIONS COME OUT, AS OTHER CARS COPY ITS FAMOUS ROOFLINE, ITS FOUR-SEAT INTERIOR, ITS CONSOLE--YET MISS THE SECRET OF THE THUNDERBIRD SPIRIT.

THE THING THAT SELLS FORDS IS SIMPLY THE PRODUCT--IT STARTS WHEN YOU TAKE A CLOSE LOOK AT FEATURES OTHER CARS ARE ONLY DREAMING ABOUT, IT GETS CONVINCING WHEN YOU SEE AND FEEL THE HONEST QUALITY OF ITS CRAFTSMANSHIP--AND IT'S ALL OVER WHEN YOU LEARN THE PRICE.

THOSE THOUSANDS OF AMERICANS WHO BOUGHT A GLITTERING NEW FORD EVERY SIX SECONDS IN MAY REALLY DID KNOW SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW--THAT NOW IS THE TIME TO STOP IN, SWAP, AND SAVE PLENTY AT YOUR FORD DEALER'S SWAPPING BEE.

Today is the day to STOP... SWAP...SAVE

Receives Chinese 'Freedom Flag'

Charles Donnell, owner of the Varsity Theater will have a graphic display to show viewers of "The 11th Commandment" when it comes to Canyon June 13-14.

Donnell recently received a Republic of China flag made at Freedom City, Korea, in October, 1953, by a Chinese soldier who was being held prisoner. The freedom fighter, Wong Hun Jung, made the flag of a handkerchief.

The colors are crimson, blue and white. There is the traditional Chinese star in one corner centered in a blue background and the rest of the flag is crimson. Jung, unable to obtain red coloring bled himself to color the flag.

After completing it he wrote on it:

Against Communism and Russia

Destroy Red Regine and Recover Mainland

Republic of China, 42nd Year (1953 A.D.)

10th Month (October), 12th Day in Korea

Freedom City, Made by Wong Hun Jung

Marked by my Blood

The flag was given to Donnell by Peter Ma who studied at West Texas State. Ma told Donnell that he was given the flag when he left for the United States by the freedom fighter.

Ma returned to his homeland at the close of the spring semester.

Visit Tokyo

Three Canyon couples, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lair, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Black and Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Nester returned Monday from a two-week visit to several Asiatic countries and Hawaii.

They made the trip for the 52nd annual convention of Rotary International in Tokyo.

The group left Amarillo May 21 and landed in San Francisco that night. Early the next morning they left for Anchorage, Alaska. Next stop was Tokyo where they had a one-hour layover before departing for Hong Kong.

They stayed in Hong Knog five days and saw all of the city. The Rev. Chester Wong, Methodist missionary, served as a guide while there.

A. W. Lair said they all stayed in the Ambassador Hote at Kowloon.

While there they visited Tiger Balm Gardens and went to the top of Victoria Peak. They dined at at floating resturant and rode the same ferry shown in the movie, "Suzy Wong."

The Lairs and Nesters took a flight to Formosa and went from there back to Tokyo for the convention. The Blacks took a direct flight to Tokyo from Hong Knog.

The convention, which began May 28, was the largest in Rotary history, with an attendance of more than 23,000 Rotarians and members of their families from some 74 countries.

The Canyon group left Tokyo by Japan Airlines for Hawaii Friday morning, June 2, and landed at Honolulu Thursday afternoon June 1.

They were met by Hula dancers and were presented the traditional leis.

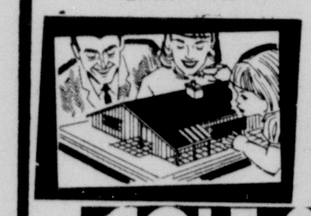

They visited Wakiki Beach and went to a Hawiian Luauu (feast). Lair said roast pig was served at the feast and entertainment consisted of a Samoan walking across the fire.

They left Honolulu at 11:40 p.m. June 4 and arrived in Los Angeles at 7:30 a.m. the next day.

The group left Los Angeles after a five-hour layover and arrived in Amarillo at 8:30 p.m. June 5.

FARM INTERPHONE--
NEW TIME-SAVER FOR FARMERS

A practical new communications service will be introduced in Texas in July to help farmers get more things done without so much wear and tear on them or others in their families.

The farm interphone, a compact communications package which will be available in July, should prove to be a real time-saver for hard-working farm families. It is designed to do three big jobs for you who live and work on the farm.

The first thing it does is provide r egular telephone service between the house, barn, other farm buildings and key outside work areas. Just imagine how m any hours and steps this will save a busy farmer a nd his family in a month.

Second, the farm interphone is hooked up with special loudspeaker-microphones that make it possible to answer the phone--hands free--without interrupting your work. Outside calls may be answered without leaving the barn.

Finally, the farm interphone is installed so that the s ounds of the farm buildings c an be heard in the house at night. It's a kind of "nightwatchman" that tells you of any unusual activities, livestock in need of attention, a pump of other equipment that might act up, or e ven the start of a fire.

A good farmer is a mighty busy man these days. And the farm interphone is designed to help him make the most of his time and energy. If you'd like to learn more about how the farm interphone can help you, just call the telephone business office in Canyon, or ask any telephone serviceman.

TOOL CHEST ON WHEELS

I'll bet there isn't a housewife anywhere who hasn't found she lacked an ingredient for a recipe s he was preparing. Or, for that matter, I wonder how many husbands have the right size washer on hand when they want to fix a leaky faucet.

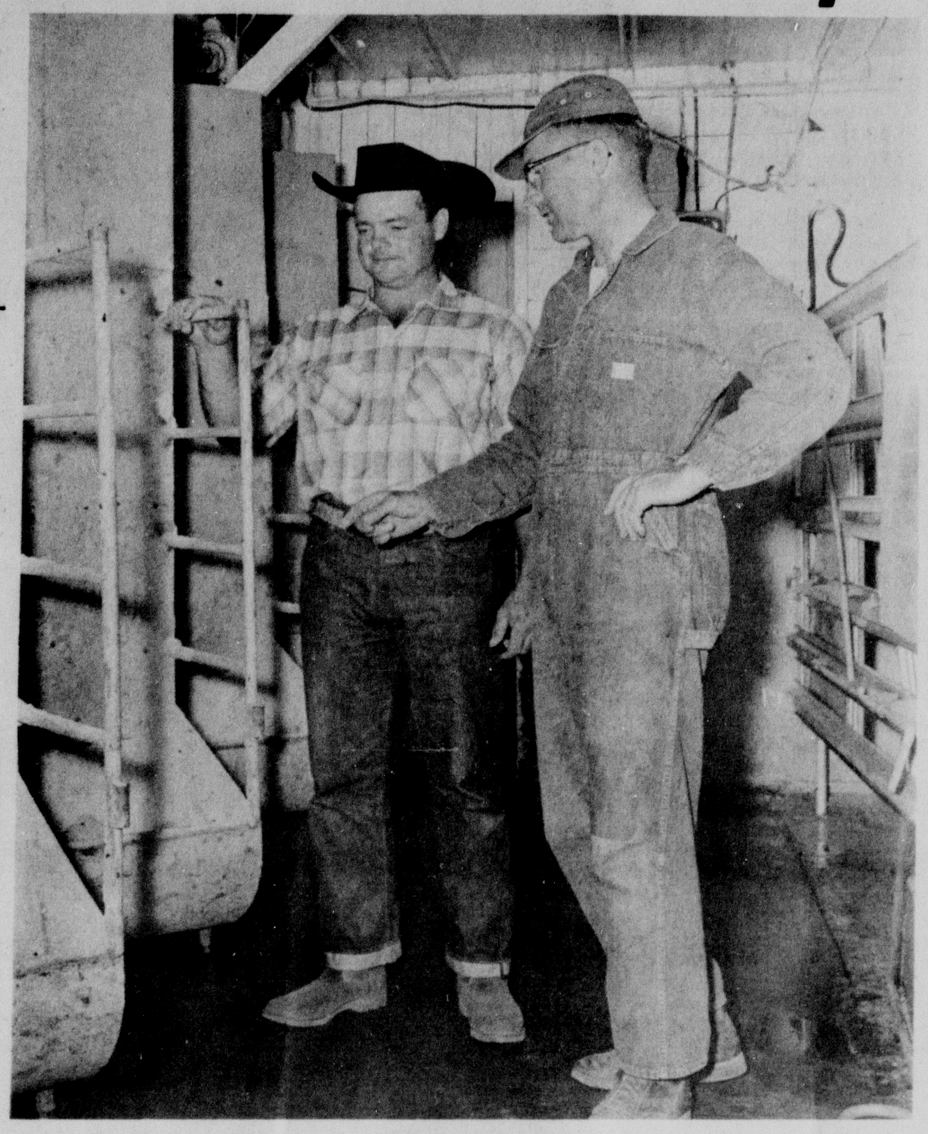

The men who install telephones avoid situations like these by carrying a full assortment of parts and tools right with them. Their trucks are really parts departments on wheels, stocked with over 400 different items. They're prepared for every job when they call to install or repair service for you.

Being ready for the unexpected is just part of our effort at the telephone company to make sure your service is as convenient and trouble-free as is humanly possible.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Hard Work Leads to New Feeder at Schaeffer Dairy

NEW TYPE of dairy feeder was built by Donald Schaeffer, dairy man from Happy, after seven years of hard work. Schaeffer said he thought it was time to start using his head instead of his back. Looking over the feeders in the above photo are Schaeffer and Louis Hinders, dairy man east of Canyon.

"I carried feed for seven years and decided it was time to start using my brain," says Donald Schaeffer of his new automatic dairy feeders.

Schaeffer operates a dairy northwest of Happy.

The feeders, designed by Schaeffer himself, are pending a patent at this time.

Based on a herring bone design (similar to 45-degree parking) the feeders allow eight cows to be fed and milked in a space normally required for three.

The feeders are filled by an auger running from the feed room. A reservoir at the top of the feeder is filled and feed is dumped into the trough by pulling cords located at a central position in the dairy.

When the cord is pulled, a paddle moves within the reservoir and allows a certain amount of feed to trickle into the trough.

"If you have an especially heavy milker you can feed her just a little more than normal by pulling the cord only part way," Schaeffer said.

"I've cut my milking and feeding time in half by using the feeders," he added.

Schaeffer said he had the feeders pictured in his mind before actual construction started. He went to a welding shop in Happy and after three days of trial and error had a working feeder.

Schaeffer then outfitted his own dairy and began operations under the new system.

"It took three or four days for most of the cows to get used to the new system," he said. "Every one of them worked well in it by the end of two weeks."

Since installing them at his own place Schaeffer has sold 20 units

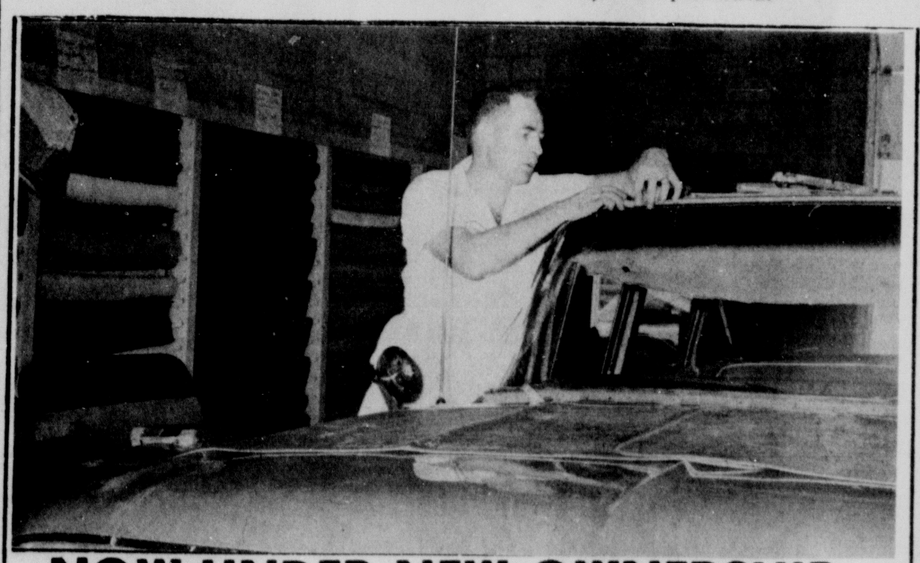

Schaeffer said there are several dairy feeders on the market but none of them pleased him.

"Mine follows a simple design and is almost foolproof," he added.

He said he had his units installed by December 22. Then about March 15 he started manufacturing them for sale.

"Most dairy men consider such a change a long time before making a decision," Schaeffer said.

But if the demand should grown, Schaeffer is ready. He said that he will equip a plant for production.

Views Asked on Rest Home

By J. W. McCulley

It has been my privilege during the last month to interview more than 100 people in regard to the need of a good modern home for the aging, and the response was most encouraging.

Leading business men, professional people, civic leaders and farmers all feel that our town and county need such an institution.

There is a growing conviction among people that we must plan to take care of our aging citizens in a better way; elderly people are giving this more thought, how they will spend their last years. Also their children are giving this serious thought.

Our pastors and churches are thinking about this ministery to our aged citizens; it bespeaks the pride and love that they have for people as they grow older and some need and others will need such care.

We have written to scores of such homes over our state and several others getting information; how the homes are operated, the care that they give, the cost per person to live in the home: what the bed capacity is and of what kind of material built of. Also the cost and how they are financed, and we have written to prominent people in these communities to find out what the public thinks of these homes and the service they render.

Then we have written to many of the administrators to find out how the residents like living in the homes, and the information is that the new surroundings and the atmosphere and personnel help to change their attitude, spirit and morale. They are more content, and cooperative and enjoy life better. They love the home and the employees. Living in such a home eliminates loneliness and anxiety and helps give the feeling of security and comfort in the last years. The constant companionship and associations help to shorten the days and this adds to health.

The Chamber of Commerce is studying the possibility of such a home for Canyon and Randall county, it can be done without government aid and should. Conventional loans can be secure, private, and loans from insurance compaines can be secure to build such homes. The location of such an institution in Canyon should be well considered; with several acres of land to help beautify the building. This should be the concern of every body interested in it. Where it c be seen for some distance a to add to its appearance.

I am happy to give my tim to my community in helping get this before the people, the is no money involved from a source and I will be glad share the information that have and will continue to secur with anyone interested in gettin such a home established. Ever county seat and county shoul plan to help take care if it own senior citizens. This doe not mean more taxes.

My information is, in every community where they have built such a home, they ar proud of it. It is their insti tution to serve their own people They will be needed as long a schools, hospitals and churche are needed.

When will there be a better time to begin planning for such a home than now? The Chamber of Commerce will appreciate a response from our citizens.

Farmer Schaeffer (see Letter to the Editor) is put out because the Canyon VFW Post had a speaker who lowered the boom on Senator Ralph Yarborough.

Farmer Schaeffer referred to the Senator as "one of the most wide awake, alert and conscientious men in Washington except for our own Lyndon Johnson....."

It strikes us as peculiar that Mr. Schaeffer finds both Johnson and Yarborough such great men. Just a year ago the name Lyndon Johnson was a curse word to the liberal element of this state.

Ralph Yarborough was one of the liberal group in the Senate who voted to strip the then majority leader of a great deal of his powers.

We had highly reliable reports from Los Angeles that Senator Yarborough even shunned the Texas delegation at the Democratic national convention last year.

Yes, Farmer, Lyndon and Ralph make strange bedfellows indeed.

Mr. Schaeffer, there is a type of double-think, double-talk upon which Senator Yarborough has built his political career and to which we do not subscribe.

Do not take our words as an endorsement of General Lee. There are many aspects of the general and of the society he represents with which we disagree most vehemently. However, we do defend his right to his own opinions.

Mr. Schaeffer, you say you are withdrawing your membership from the Canyon VFW Post and transferring it to the Happy Post. What will be your attitude if the Happy Post does something with which you do not agree?

This is dairy month and after visiting some of the modern dairies in the vicinity of Canyon we could not help remembering our experiences on the farm with dairy cattle.

Our days in the dairy business may not have been before the advent of the automatic milking machine but it certainly was before we could afford one.

One of our earliest memories is of milking a none too cooperative bovine in the cold dawn before starting off for school.

We swore then that someday our closest contact with a cow would be a milk bottle. Even now our hands get numb every time we drink a glass of milk.

"America is becoming flabby, intoned the TV announcer in one of these half-hour spectaculars one night recently. Aim of the show was to help get America fit.

Sponsor of the show was an outfit which manufactures television sets with remote tuning devices "so you won't even have to get up out of your chair to change stations."

PS: When we saw the commercial we changed stations.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

For what it is worth, it anything, I wish to register my disagreement with Jerry Lee's closing remarks at the VFW meeting at Canyon last week. Alson one would naturally wonder who engineered the deal of inviting this character there to preach his "Hymn of Hate" and political propaganda even to the extent of belittling our good Senior Senator, Ralph Yarborough. Now during Mr. Yarborough's tenure of office in Washington I have written him perhaps a dozen letters and have received a personal reply to all. Of course, I also receive his form letter each week and also read it and I personally think Ralph is one of our most wide awake, alert and conscientious men in Washington except for our own Lyndon Johnson (who is at present the second Vice-President our great state of Texax has furnished the nation within a generation) represents the people better than any man we have sent there in recent times and I resent those slurring and smearing remarks about a good man as given out by Mr. Lee, according to The Canyon News. I did not attend the meeting for the simple reason that when I found out that Mr. Lee had been invited to address it I decided that it was best not to attend. Furthermore as of now I am withdrawing my membership in the Canyon Post and will transfer it back to the post at Happy as in my mind the Canyon Post has outlived its usefulness by allowing hate and politics to creep into it.

Perhaps I am merely behind the times and out of step with the Canyon Post but if that be the case the post is better off without me. Oh well, this will wind up in the wastebasket anyway but at least I got it off my chest.

Hilltop Views

BY DR. J. A. HILL

This time we're off the deep end---head foremost into politics. No doubt I'll be branded something bad by somebody. But let her go rip. I still live in America and have passed my 21st birthday.

I listened to Governor Daniel the other night and felt some leanings in his direction. I used to have an occasional "head-on" with lobbyists inside the big dome myself and got called one now and then, which I was.

But I never saw 1866 such animals in one herd and the Governor sorter scared me. I tell you for a fact, some of those beasts have horns, and you can't always know which ones 'til they have hooked you deep in the "tummy." In fact it sometimes took me months to find out just whose horns gored me. Apparently Governor Daniel thinks he has spotted at least a few big bulls and he may be right as a fox. If so, I say power to him. "They ain't nothin' some folks would rather get out of than paying their fair share of taxes. I've seensome of 'em a lot closer than Austin."

All this reminds me of something old Jim Ferguson once said to Ma when a bunch of college presidents were trying to lobby him out of some money for summer schools. "Ma," said he, "civilization comes high and salvation is no longer free. Better let these boys have some money." Ma did.

As Grady Hazelwood points out though, not all lobbyists are evil. For instance, you take me. My motive was good. I was trying to keep open a summer school for teachers.

As a matter of fact, almost any good lobbyist can prove to his own satisfaction, that whatever it is that he is after is good; and he hopes he can prove it to the satisfaction of the legislators and the governors, too.

So intent is a lobbyist in protecting his own interest that sometimes he resorts to unethical methods and perhaps justifies it to himself on that wholly sinful idea that the end justifies the means.

For instance, almost every legislative year some special interest will take the whole legislative body clear across the state on an expensive barbecue at or near its place of business---all expenses of 181 legislators fully paid, plus ample beverages. What for? You decide.

Now as to Governor Daniel's 1866 or Senator Hazelwood's 15 it doesn't make much difference which is right. I have known one lone lobbyist to exercise tremendous influence upon the course of important legislation---not just once but time after time.

A not uncommon practice is the teaming up of kindred interests and working through public welfare agencies such as Chambers of Commerce; or let's say the National Association of Manufacturers or through any one of dozens of other special intersts.

The right of these various legitimate agencies to be heard before the legislative and other arms of the government cannot be successfully denied. In other words, a lobbyist in a just cause and using ethical procedures is in a wholly defensible business.

The history of lobbying is so full of malpractice that most all lobbying is now suspect, and since most of it is done by large corporate interests such interests also are suspect.

Recent disclosures of illegal and dishonest practices on the part of several of the nation's largest business enterprises tends to destroy public confidence in their integrity and in the integrity of all spokesmen for large corporate business, lobbyists included.

It is not here meant to condemn as dishonest all big business or all lobbying of whatever kind, for no doubt much of it is ethical and sound, but it plain as day that malpractice in business at all levels is gnawing at the vitals of this republic. Governors and legislators will do well to concern themselves with these public dangers.

Salute to the Dairy Industry

(An Editorial)

This week The Canyon News pays tribute to the dairy farmers of Randall County.

The dairy industry brings in $876,000 annually to the producers of the county. These are spendable dollars which come in over a 12-month period.

Year-around dollars mean more to the local economy than do the same number of dollars which are brought in by a cash crop within a period of a few weeks. Year-around dollars are much more likely to be spent in Canyon than out of town.

The dairy industry became even more important when Borden Company established its fine new plant north of town in Randall County.

Revenue from sale and distribution of dairy products brings in additional money for the community and county's economy. Those of you who are not aware of our fine dairy industry in Randall County should drive around the countryside and take a look at the magnificient dairy herds.

A matter of further pride for our community and county is the fact that some of the state's leading milk producing cattle are bred right here in the county. We are thinking specifically of the Louis Hinders herd.

We hope next year to see June highlighted with a dairy festival and the naming of a dairy princess for the northern portion of Texas.

Canyon should make every effort to let our dairy farmers know we are proud of our great dairy industry here.

McClure Planning More Exhibits for P-P Museum

MAIL BOXES from the old Ochiltree post office are shown in the above photo. C. Boone McClure, Panhandle-Plains Museum director, said the boxes will be used in a country store exhibit.

C. Boone McClure, Panhandle-Plains Museum director, has already started plans on exhibits which may be used in the new addition.

Two weeks ago he went to Perryton for post office fixtures which will be used in the reconstruction of a country store.

"The boxes were once in the Ochiltree post office," McClure said.

Jess Stump of Perryton donated them. They came from the post office and store once operated by his grandfather.

McClure said he located the boxes two or three years ago. At that time they were donated to the museum and he finally picked them up. Also obtained on the trip were books, branding irons and some stirrups.

McClure said there are some more items there which will be used in the model store. A pot-bellied stove from the same location as the boxes will be used.

On the same trip McClure obtained photographs of the Jim Cator family and ranch. They were early Panhandle settlers.

Girls' Swimming To Last Through Summer

The Kiwanis Club's girls' swimming program got off to a good start Tuesday evening, according to Hatcher Brown, club member heading the summer girls' program.

Brown said admission is free and instructors are on hand to help beginners.

"All girls are welcome," Brown said. "Even if they can swim they can come out and enjoy the evening."

Collection Adds to Museum Information

The paleontology department of the Panhandle-Plains Museum has received a valuable collection of Indian artifacts, according to Jack Hughes, Curator.

LOOKING OVER a valuable collection of Indian artifacts are Jack Hughes, left, and Bill Harrison. Harrison recently donated his collection, built over a 10-year period to Panhandle-Plains Museum. Hughes, curator of paleontology, said it should prove to be a valuable guide to Indian life in this area.

The collection represents 10 years of part time work for Bill Harrison, graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State College.

Representing approximately 126 different Indian sites, the collection will prove a key in providing more complete information about plains Indians, Hughes said.

"Bill has done an excellent job of cataloging and recording each object and its location," Hughes said.

There are about 20 separate pieces from each site.

"The bulk of my work was done here in Randall County," Harrison said of the collection.

Hughes added that it gives a good view of the central Panhandle.

Made up of surface material Hughes said it offers an answer to the way of life of the different tribes of the area.

"Now we can excavate and determine the different ages in which the groups lived," he added.

Bulk of the collection is made up of flint chips and points. But at some of the sites Harrison found beads, steel points and other rare objects.

His most prized possession is a ground hematite pendant which probably was once used as a charm.

Harrison has been collecting and keeping accurate records for the last 10 years.

He began the work before high school days and later worked with the museum on excavation projects.

Recently Harrison accompanied a Texas University team to the Sanford reservoir area for work in that area.

Hughes said Harrison has often guided the museum to valuable sites.

Harrison was graduated from WT at the close of the spring semester. While waiting to begin his military service he has been helping the museum in the paleontology department.

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

Mary Caballero

A brochure on the Symphonic Drama for our area must be in the hands of many people by now. A meeting has been planned for June 11 in the Branding Iron Theater in the Fine Arts Building of West Texas State College. The meeting will be at 3 p.m.

From William Glover of New York comes the following description of the impace of the summer theater business throughout the U.S.A.. It will give us an idea of the excitement we can look forward to when we have a summer theater in our locale.

"Show business is ready for a lively season in the sun, coast to coast. Name players, new ventures, just-released Broadway hits highlight the drama-melody assortment assembled for display from now to September in spangled playhouses, whitewashed barns and sylvan arenas.

"The Summer theater lineup is expected to total 300, the same as last year, with the main audience lure the booming musical tent array. About four and one-half million spectators are expected to flock to 23 big tops. At least one show boat, the Majestic, will be paddling up and down the Ohio River."

The actors and the plays for all the summer dramas and musicals are of the very top-notch quality!

"Joining the roster of historic pageants, a Dixie specialty, are "Honey in the Rock," a Civil War saga, at Beckley, W. Va., and "Bound for Kentucky," a celebration of Louisville's founding.

Established spectacles again on season run include: Stephen Foster Pageant, Bardstown, Ky., opening June 23; "Book of Job," Pinesville, Ky., June 22; "The Common Glory," Williamsburg, Va. May 29.

Also "Unto These Hills," Cherokee, N.C., June 27; "Horn in the West", Boone, N.C., July 1; and "Lost Colony," Manteo, N.C., July 1.

Resuming after a three-year intermission, the Antioch Arena Theater at Yellow Springs, Ohio, opens July 5 with a mixed menu including Shaw, Moliere, Arthur Miller, Jean Giradoux, and Shakespeare.

Speaking of Shakespeare--"the Elizabethan master" will monopolize the stage at Ashland, Ore., (July 24-Sept 3), the San Diego, Calif., Globe (June 27-Sept. 10), and the two Stratford (the one in Ontario, June 19-Sept 23; that in Connecticut, June 6-Sept. 10).

And it won't be too far in the future that we will be announcing our own big summer event--the Symphonic Drama.

Kerry's project was making penicillin. A fifth-grade student, he competed in the project with 700 other students from 46 schools. His prize was a $50 US Savings Bond.

Last year, Kerry represented his school at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., in the finals with a barometer he made. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. G.B. McCarter.

DOUBLE GUNN BROS STAMPS TUESDAY AT BELLAH'S

Play Project Meeting Set Sunday at BIT

"Do you want to help renew our Panhandle history in a way so compelling that it will seize the imagination of the area, the state and the nation?

If you do---Read on."

This quotation is taken from the pamphlet prepared and circulated by the Symphonic Drama Project, sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

This organization, formed to build an amphatheater in the Palo Duro Canyons and present a symphonic drama there, will have an area meeting Sunday.

The meeting will begin at 3 p.m. The brochure says "Questions at 3 p.m.; Action at 4 p.m." It is being held at the Branding Iron Theater of West Texas State College. The theater is located in the Fine Arts Building on Highway 87.

Such things will be discussed as, the best way to raise money to promote the project; what can the project offer you, your town; the best way to handle publicity for the drama; and what you can do to help promote the project.

Not only does such a drama offer a project of great historical value, but the literary value of a drama written by an outstanding playwright, such as Paul Green, cannot be overlooked.

Green, a pulitizer prize winning author, has agreed to see that a distinguished script is available for production in such a theater.

This type of drama is timeless. The production of "The Lost Colony," a symphonic drama written by Green, is in it's 20th year of production.

A project of this great scope cannot be handled by a few. To suceed the entire area surrounding the site of its production must be behind it.

Rarely does a chance to immortalize the history of an area present its self in so attractive a form. Rarely do a people have the opportunity to preserve their heritage for generations to follow.

It has been said of Texans, that they are prone to brag about their state and their heritage. It has been said that they have a pride in their state unequaled in any other state in the union. With pride, any Texan can back a project to perpetuate the ideals and ideas that have made his state and his heritage what they are today.

Initial memberships, which enable voting, are $12.50. They can be obtained from the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting of the association is this Sunday. You do not have to be a member to attend. All that is required is an interest in the project.

MRS. MARCHBANKS VISITS SISTER

Mrs. Armour Lee Marchbanks and her sons, Joe and Si, were guests in the home of Mrs. J.M. Daugherty over the weekend.

MRS. MORRIS HERE TO ATTEND SUMMER SCHOOL

Mrs. Clarence R. Morris and daughters, Perryton, are in Canyon. Mrs. Morris will attend summer sessions at West Texas State College. Mrs. Morris is a sister of Mrs. L. E. Gum.

Museum Mural Artist Said Coronado Aide Was Task

Painting a mural can sometimes present a problem, especially in the opinion of James Mead of Dallas.

Mead has painted three murals for Panhandle-Plains Museum over a period of 20 years. These hang along the west in the main room.

"There's not much of a story to the average mural," Mead said, "but when I started the one of Coronado I was concerned with the appearance of El Turko."

"He was the one who supposedly attempted to lose Cornado on his expedition and, like everyone else, I considered him a villain.

"I was about ready to add him to the painting when one day I saw this Indian on the streets of Amarillo.

"I followed him and he went into a drugstore. We struck up a conversation and I told him about the mural on which I was working.

"He immediately indicated he had a hatred for Coronado. This surprised me and I asked him to come to my studio.

"When we got there he explained that he was a descendant of the Pueblo Indians where El Turko had once lived.

"He went on to tell me that the sickness of the Spaniards brought eventually wiped out the pueblo.

"After hearing his story I had to reconsider my idea of El Turko."

The murals are not the only work Mead has done for the museum. In 1936 he was commissioned for the high fee of $100 to prepare the scenery for a display case which was donated by the WT class of 1936.

The case was to contain a chuckwagon scene.

Mead was living Chicago at the time and all he had to work with were measurements of the case and a general idea.

"I lived in one of those tiny apartments and every time I had to drive a nail people above and below me complained.

"I finally worked out a system where I would strike a nail twice and work on some other phase of the display for about an hour.

"Then I would go back to my nail and hit it two more times.

"It took about three months working in my spare time to complete it. I was then faced with the problem of getting it to Canyon. I finally called in a moving company and had them crate it."

Mead completed his most recent project for the museum in 1958. It was one of the three murals but not the one of Coronado.

JAMES MEAD built background material in the above case tap at a time. He said he built the display in a small Chicago apartment and would only strike a nail twice before irate neighbors would complain. Mead is at left. Shown with him is Arthur Cizek of Dallas. Case is on display at Panhandle-Plains Museum.

WT Music Camp Features New Band Directors

Featuring two new visiting band directors, the West Texas Music Camp will open for its ninth annual two-weeks session here at West Texas State College July 16.

Joining an already distinguished instructional staff will be Randall Spicer, director of bands at Washington State University, and Gene A. Braught, director of bands at Del Mar College. Spicer will direct the camp's top Symphonic Band, while Braught will conduct the Red Concert Band and marching classes.

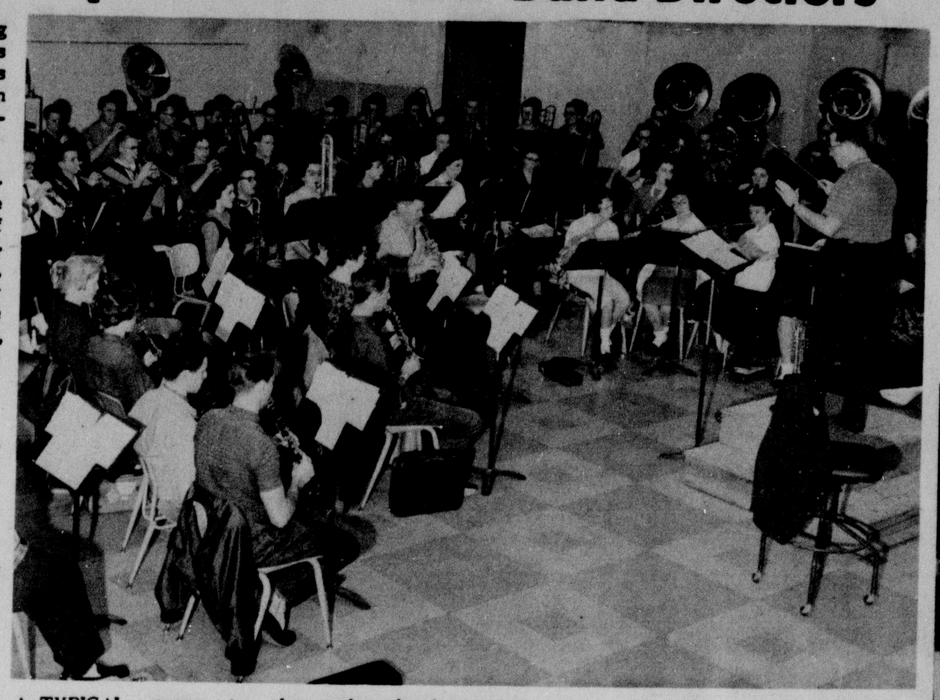

Expected for WT's highly ranked band and choral camp, will be about 300 junior and senior high school musicians from tri-state area. The musicians will follow an intensive daily schedule of practice sessions, rehearsals, concerts and recreation for the two weeks.

Director of the camp is Dr. Ted. J. Crager, head of the department of music at WT. Assistant camp director is Dr. Houston Bright, conductor of WT's A Cappella Choir. Other WT faculty and staff members include Rowie Durden, assistant band director, Royal Brantley, head of WT's vocal staff, Mrs. Frances Bright, piano, and Harlon Lamkin, saxaphone.

Back on the staff as conductor of the camp's choir, will be Dr. Warner Imig, dean of the college of music at the University of Colorado. Conductor of the Blue Concert Band will be G. T. Gilligan, director of bands at Kermit, and chief twirling instructor will be Bill Woods, band director at Seagraves. J. W. King, Jr., of Hale Center, will again conduct the junior high band.

Instrumental instructors include Richard Kole of San Antonio, Kyle Crain of Odessa, Eldon Sonnenburg of Sherman, Gerald Hemphill of Phillips University, J. R. McEntyre of Odessa, Lee Boyd Montgomery of Sudan, Wick Wickersham of Burkburnett, and Paul Lovett of Lubbock.

The camp is conducted primarily in the new air-conditioned Fine Arts Building at WT, and social activities are planned in the Student Union Building. Deadline for enrollment in the camp will be June 15.

A TYPICAL scene in the modern band practice room at West Texas State College.

"Bus Stop" Opens At The BIT Tonight

"Bus Stop," a delightful, Broadway comedy by William Inge, will open at the Branding Iron Theater of West Texas State College tonight and run through Saturday.

The play will feature Edward Thomas as Bo Decker and Marti Hinson as Cherie. Thomas and Hinson returned to the Branding Iron Theater stage after an absence of almost a year.

"The Badman."

Penny Cox plays Grace and Joe Tunnell will be seen as Carl, the bus driver who delivers his passengers to "Grace's Diner."

Lee Blocker portrays Elma and Bob Finnicum plays Virgil.

"Bus Stop" is the story of what can happen in one night, when people of different ideals and ideas are thrown into the close confines of a dingy diner.

There's Carl, the bus driver, who likes to take long walks in the snow as long as they lead up back stairways.

There's Virgil, who has raised Bo since he was ten and watches him become a man in one night.

There's Elma who makes A's in school but can't see beyond a friendly face and flattery.

Edward Thomas, a familiar face on the BIT Stage returns to play the blustery Bo. Thomas has been in New York City.

There's the cowboy, Bo, who has found the woman he wants to marry and is taking her to Montana with him.

There's Cherie, who isn't sure she wants to trade the music and color of the Blue Dragon Night Club in "Kanz City" for the solitude of a Montana ranch.

There's Dr. Lyman, played by Dr. Wendell Cain, who has philosophized himself into being a bum and doesn't like the drunkard he's become.

There's Will, the sheriff, portrayed by Don Essary. Will is a strong man and a deeply religious man who does his duty no matter what.

There's Grace, a woman who has found herself a lonely grass widow in a little town, running a restraunt that serves as the bus stop and searching for companionship on every incoming bus.

Marti Hinson, Cherie, who graduated last year, taught in Amarillo this year.

The play is under the direction of William A. Moore, director of the BIT. Mrs. William A. Moore is acting coach of the play. Sets and costumes are by Erin Wertenburger, summer techninical director of the BIT.

Curtain time is 8:15. Admission is, Adults...$1.00, high school and junior high school students...75¢ and grade school children...50¢.

"ARISE FAIR SUN, AND KILL THE EVIOUS MOON",.....Dr. Lyman, Wendell Cain, and Elma, Lee Blocker, entertain the people snowbound at Grace's "Bus Stop" with a scene from Shakespeare during the Branding Iron Theater production. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m..

Also returning after a long absence from the BIT stage are Don Essary and Dr. Wendell Cain. Essary was with the Oregon Shakespearean Festival last summer and Dr. Cain was seen recently in Amarillo Little Theater's Production of

City Pool Open Monday Nights

The city swimming pool will remain open until 9 p.m. Monday nights, according to Bill York, city manager.

York said this is to allow persons who work during the day a chance to swim. He added that the pool will remain open Monday nights "as long as interest is evidenced."

Also, lessons started June 7. Anyone desiring to register for instructions may do so by seeing Charles Chambless at the pool.

Stubble mulching in the Great Plains is a year-round way of managing plant residues on cropland. Harvesting, seedbed preparation, planting and cultivating are all done so as to leave residues of the presvious crop on top of the soil untill after the next crop is seeded and as long thereafter as possible. These residues or mulch help conserve moisture and soil.

Stubble mulching greatly reduces wind and water eroision. This mulch keeps the wind from getting at the soil and the rain from compacting it. It slows down run off giving more time to soak in and holds the soil more open so that water intake is more rapid.

Use as little tillage as possible so long as you control the weeds is the general rule. Sweeps and wide sweeps especially, are best since they destroy less residues per operation than disk type equipment, about one-tenth as compared to one-half. Tillage should be shallow to control weeds and conserve moisture with the first tillage normally the deepest.

Stubble mulching is most common on grain crops, but is needed on all crops in the Great Plains. Mulching of summer-fallowed land is most necessary due to the long time between crops. If possible leave the stubble standing after harvest untill spring. If there is a lot of volunteer or weeds cultivation with a sweep or blade once soon after harvest or later in the fall may be necessary.

Seeding in stubble mulch is not difficult. Insure a clean furrow, cut down to moisture, leaving sufficient stubble on the surface to prevent erosion. Drills of the deep-furrow shoe or hoe type are effective in heavy stubble and semideep or deep-furrow disk type drills will handle large amounts of sttuble. Equip all drills with press wheels.
